

Debra R. Miller

Debra Miller is a joint founder of Values Centered Innovation, a global enterprise that enables individuals, groups and organizations to innovate to their highest human capacity. She has decades of experience leading IT initiatives, coaching executives on leadership effectiveness, and building innovation competencies. In the early 1990s, Debra founded Masterful Mission, a business coaching organization working with executives, business owners and entrepreneurs. Through her work and public speaking she helped to pioneer the now-popular concept of business coaching. She leads VCI's coaching and training practices and IT development, and co-authors VCI's IP.

In her 40-year professional career, she has managed corporate software development and accounting functions, trained thousands of people worldwide, and authored numerous books, articles and white papers on subjects such as business coaching, spiritual-based leadership, human values in the workplace, and innovation enablement. In the year 2000, she and William Miller co-founded the Global Dharma Center, which focuses on spirituality and human values for leadership and work organizations. She co-produced programs on Human Values and Ethics in the Workplace, designed for UN Habitat, and the Spiritual-Based Leadership Research Program that interviewed over 40 top executives from 18 countries.

Debra Miller has worked with corporations large and small around the world including these organizations: Nestle Purina, Kiewit, Magna, Land O'Lakes, British Council, University of Dallas, Nokia India, ACC Cement Company, Infosys Technologies, L&T Integrated Engineering Services, Aon Hewitt India, Essae Chandran Institute, Jindal Stainless, Cognizant India, School of Inspired Leadership, and Compassites Software Solutions Pvt.
